

March 26, 2018

Recommendation for Ms. Bonnie Ross-Parker

To Whom It May Concern:

It is an honor and a privilege to recommend Ms. Bonnie Ross-Parker as an exceptional Speaker. I met Ms. Ross-Parker only a month ago, when she was invited as a Speaker at Georgia State University, yet she has impacted my peers and me in many ways. I was impressed by her eager attitude towards helping students to figure out the art of networking.

Ms. Ross-Parker visited Georgia State University during a Speaker Event organized by the GSU chapter of Golden Key International Honour Society. She presented on how to network effectively. Some of her most helpful tips according to audience feedback related to the following:

- 1- How to initiate conversation
- 2- Inviting someone to sit with one's group
- 3- Building a personal brand to be easily identifiable
- 4- Knowing when to and not to give a business card
- 5- "Rescuing" someone who is standing or sitting alone
- 6- How to properly walk away and following up

Ms. Ross-Parker was tremendously inspirational and served as an example for students, especially women who aspire to succeed in entrepreneurship, and other fields where females are a minority.

Ms. Ross-Parker possesses the qualities of a dedicated leader, who maintains a thoughtful communicate style. I constantly admirer her giving spirit. I would work with her again with no doubt. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at lesly.f.veve@gmail.com.

Sincerely,

Lesly F. Veve, Director of Professional Development

Golden Key International Honour Society, Georgia State University